FIFTEENTH YEAR.

EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY, JAN. 21, 1904.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

Senate Passes Bill For Uniform School Books.

SENATOR CANTRILL LEADS THE FIGHT AGAINST ADMINISTRATION.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 15.—Senator J. Campbell Cantrill led the fight in the Senate today which triumphed over the Administration forces in the passage of a school book bill which was the Cantrill bill with certain amendments agreed upon. Senator J. Embury Allen also made a strong fight for the passage of the bill.

Shorn of its technical language, the bill, as amended and adopted in the Senate today is as follows:

The School Book Commission shall be composed of the Governor, the Auditor of Public Accounts, State Treasurer and three members of the State Board of Education. The Governor shall be Chairman, and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be Secretary and executive officer. The Commissioners shall serve without compensation, taking an oath that they receive no benefit from any contract.

The commission shall receive sealed bids for books from publishers for five years, stating prices at which books can be furnished the State or any County Board of Education. The bill names maximum prices 15 percent, lower than the prices named in the Hickman or Tabb bills, favored by the administration. Publishers shall deposit a forfeit to insure that contracts will be carried out.

A County School Book Commission, consisting of the County Superintendent of Public Instruction, County Judge and County Attorney.

The State School Book Commission shall open bids and transmit a list to the County Boards. The County Boards shall convene at a day designated and select books for the various branches, forwarding their choice to Frankfort, filing a copy of the list of record in the County Superintendent of Public Instruction. When all counties have reported, the Commissioners at Frankfort shall meet at the call of the Secretary and canvass the reports as election returns are canvassed, adopting each book which is shown to have received the sanction of a majority of the County Boards. The system of books thus adopted shall be used in every county in the State for five years. The Commissioners at Frankfort shall notify the publishers whose books have been adopted. Contracts shall be made and signed by the Governor and attested by the Secretary of State.

Four Years in the Pen.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 15.—Will Miller, of Evansville, was convicted of detaining a woman against her will in the Circuit Court here today and sentenced to four years in the penitentiary. The crime occurred in this city just before Christmas, and short work was made of the defendant, who has been indicted, tried and sentenced within about three weeks.

Died.

Miss Elizabeth O'Brien an aged lady, died at the residence of Mrs. McDonald last Friday and was carried to Hopkinsville for burial. She was a sister of Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. James Kilroy both of this city. The sorrowing relatives have the deep sympathy of their friends.

GEORGE E. EVANS

Says he Will not Resign General Managership of L. & N.

The report that George E. Evans, general manager of the Louisville and Nashville, had resigned came last night in a telegram from Nashville says Monday's Courier-Journal. The report was to the effect that Mr. Evans would be succeeded by B. M. Stark, superintendent of the South and North and Birmingham Mineral division of the system, with headquarters in Birmingham. Mr. Evans was seen at the Galt House, and said:

"I have not resigned and have no intention of resigning. This is the first I have heard of the report, and if any one expects me to resign I shall have to disappoint him at present."

Mr. Evans has the reputation of being one of the most astute railroad managers in the South, and the report that he is to resign is generally discredited. Mr. Stark, who is mentioned in the report as his successor, is also one of the most capable men in the service of the Louisville and Nashville. He has been with the road for years, and before going to Birmingham was superintendent of the Nashville terminals. He established the system which is in force there, and his work has stood practically without change since his transfer to the more responsible position in Birmingham.

New Member in the Firm.

The well known and progressive dry goods firm of Dulin & McLeod, of Madisonville, has a new member in the person of Mr. Smith Dulin, of Springfield, Tenn. Mr. Dulin will take an active interest in the management of the business, and will have charge of the advertising department. Mr. Dulin believes that "it pays to advertise," and is a strong advocate of a liberal use of printers' ink, consequently it is more than probable that the business of Dulin & McLeod will show quite an increase for the year 1904.

Will Wed February 2nd.

Mr. O. L. Tinder, of Madisonville, and Miss Sadie Birk, of Owensboro, will wed Tuesday, February 2nd. It will be a quiet home affair and attended only by near friends and relatives. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. P. T. Hale, pastor of the Third Baptist church, of Owensboro. Miss Birk is a very popular and charming young lady and Mr. Tinder is one of Madisonville's most progressive young business men.

Stabbed Jailer at Calhoun.

Owensboro, Ky., Jan. 15.—Dug Riggs, jailer of McLean county, and W. D. Croft, manager of an oil-boring plant, got into a quarrel at Calhoun over the oil business, Riggs declaring that it was a fake. Croft cut Riggs about twenty times with a penknife before they could be separated. Riggs is in very bad condition, but may recover.

Mrs. Dan Sullivan Entertains.

Mrs. Dan Sullivan entertained a number of her friends at her residence Thursday night in honor of her sister, Miss Florence Dehler, a charming young lady of Evansville.

Kills Father for Abusing Mother.

Paducah, Ky., January 16.—James Dunn was shot and killed by his son near Linton, Trigg county. Dunn was abusing his wife, when the boy took her part and shot his father. He was not arrested.

THREE WILL HANG.

Holland, Carney and Finch Have Had Sentence of Death Passed on Them.

MERIWETHER IS NOW ON TRIAL.

Charles Finch, the third of the negroes put on trial at Hopkinsville for the murder of the unknown white man near Pembroke on November 14, will hang if the verdict of the jury is enforced. A verdict of guilty was brought in, fixing the penalty at death. One man stood for half a day for life sentence, but he finally came over to the other eleven and agreed to vote for death.

Frank Carney and George Holland, the two men who actually did the killing, were convicted and a death verdict returned in the case several days ago.

The trials have been conducted rapidly and there has been no undue haste. Ample latitude is given the defense in each case, but the evidence for the prisoners is manifestly a tissue of falsehood and at variance with the confessions made by all three of the men who have been tried.

THE MERIWETHER CASE.

The trial of Frank Meriwether, another of the negroes was continued into Monday and by 11:30 the jury was made up.

Meriwether is defended by R. N. Lander and F. H. Ford, the colored lawyers. The same attorneys for the Commonwealth, who conducted the other cases, will have charge of this one. The jury is as follows:

T. J. Word, J. W. Rogers, Will Gilkey, J. W. Crabtree, R. A. Haddox, F. E. Quarles, W. T. Meacham, F. B. Cobb, J. W. Weldon, C. E. S. White, W. T. Renshaw, D. J. McCord.

The witnesses are the same as in the other cases. Meriwether is the man who Holland said in his confession struck the sleeping man with the bludgeon that crushed his skull and really killed him, before his throat was cut by Holland.

There is hardly any ground for doubt that Meriwether will receive a death sentence, like the others already tried.

SHOCK KILLED HIM.

Gas Jessup, an aged colored man, died suddenly at the home of Robert Glenn, col., near Downer's nursery, last Wednesday night, says the Fairview Review. He was the father of George Holland, who was given a death sentence at Hopkinsville on that day for murdering the unknown white man near Pembroke. He heard the news shortly after the verdict was returned, and it is supposed the shock of the news that his son was going to be hung caused his death. "Gas," as he was called, was a peaceful, quiet negro, and was well thought of by the white people who knew him.

Operation Performed.

Mrs. Emmeline Browning, of Madisonville, who has been suffering for some time, was forced to have her lower left limb amputated last Sunday on account of gangrene setting up. It had come to pass that her life was hanging by a thread and only an operation of this kind could save it. Mrs. Browning is seventy years old and stood the operation wonderfully well for one of her age. Her many friends trust she may speedily be restored to health. Drs. Bone and Gardiner performed the operation.

Hot air is expensive when it comes through the gas meter.

HANCOCK CASE

Decided in Favor of L. & N. R. R.

In the case of J. L. Hancock vs. the L. & N. R. R. which was tried at Madisonville last Friday judgment was rendered for the defendant.

The plaintiff bought a ticket at Clarksville, Tenn., to Slaughter'sville, Ky., March 3, 1903. In order to reach Slaughter'sville he had to change cars at Guthrie, Ky., and at that point attempted to board the first train reaching there which passed through Slaughter'sville, and which was a train not scheduled to stop at the latter point. The conductor refused to permit Hancock to ride to Slaughter'sville on that train, and Hancock sued to recover damages for his failure to go to Slaughter'sville on that train. The defense was that this was one of the fastest trains of the company, not scheduled to stop at Slaughter'sville, or at but few of the more important points between Nashville and Evansville, and that the contract for transportation which Hancock made with the company only permitted him to travel from Guthrie to Slaughter'sville on a train that stopped at the latter station. The court decided this question in favor of the railroad company and denied Hancock a right of recovery, holding the regulation of the company to be a reasonable one.

KENTUCKY WEATHER CAREFULLY WATCHED.

Some Well Known Men and Women of Every Profession Included in the List of Official Observers.

The Louisville Herald, in speaking of the Kentucky weather observers has the following in its issue of Jan. 13th.

"Among the sixty weather observers in Kentucky, there are men and women of every station of prosperity and learning, from a nun in a Catholic academy to a millionaire."

Speaking of Mr. Jno. B. Atkinson, President of the St. Bernard Mining Co., of this place, the writer continues:

"Mr. Atkinson is not a weather observer for the money there is in it, because the position from the Government, which he is filling, pays no salary. But as a large land owner and as a man interested in Hopkins county industrial and mining enterprises, he wanted the weather reports and other data that is sent every day to the voluntary observers, and he decided to apply for the position."

"The weather reports from Earlington are sent with scrupulous care, and when the President of the coal company is out of the city, one of his assistants sends in the information to the Central Weather office."

Mr. Atkinson is only one of a number of rich Kentuckians who help make up the report of Kentucky weather, which is telegraphed about the country twice a day from Washington.

Russellville Man Drinks Ink.

Thorny Meadows is lying at the point of death at his home in Russellville, as a result of swallowing the contents of wrong bottle. He made a mistake in the bottles on his table and drank a quantity of indelible ink, instead of whiskey, which he was taking for grip. Physicians were hastily summoned and pumped out his stomach, but he is still in a critical condition. Mr. Meadows is foreman of Russellville laundry.

WORLD'S FAIR BILL

Passed House With Only Fourteen Dissenting Votes.

BRADLEY VOTES AGAINST THE BILL.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 15.—By a vote of 71 to 14 the House today passed the Spalding Bill appropriating $75,000 to supplement the fund of about $30,000 already raised by private subscriptions for a proper presentation of Kentucky's resources at the World's Fair in St. Louis. By the terms of the bill the new State Commission, which it creates, and which is to serve without compensation, will take all the concessions, contracts and assets of the Kentucky Exhibit Association, including the Kentucky building already erected on the World's Fair grounds. The commission conforms in organization to that of the Exhibit Association. The passage of the bill through the Senate is assured beyond a doubt and there is a possibility of its adoption by a unanimous vote. Representative R. B. Bradley, of Hopkins, voted against the bill.

Christian County Farmer Shoots Face Off.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 16.—Edward P. Hays, a farmer, near this place accidentally shot himself this afternoon while out hunting. His arm was badly lacerated, and his face was almost torn off. He may recover.

ELIZABETHTOWN

Said to be the Largest Mule Market in the State.

Elizabethtown is rapidly forging her way to the front as a mule market. During last week there was not less than fifteen male buyers there from all points in the South and every big market in the South was represented. The sales of mules there last week amounted to at least $50,000, which is a very large business for one week. Before the season is over somewhere between fifteen hundred and two thousand mules will be shipped from there. All the mule dealers are feeling extra good about the market as large profits have been realized on all the sales. The top of the market so far has been paid to Goodin & Kimble of Tomsboro, and Bond, of Vine Grove. They each sold a car load for $200 a head. Of course they were extra fine and large ones. Just now the feeders are scouring all the territory within a hundred miles or Elizabethtown in search of mules, but very few are to be had.

Died.

Lena, the fifteen year old daughter of Mr. G. F. Jones, of Evansville, Ind., died at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Robert Bellamy Tuesday at noon of diabetes. She had been here some time visiting her sister and was taken sick several days ago. She was a devoted little Christian and met death fearlessly. Her father was summoned a day or two since and was with her at the end. Funeral services were held at the Christian church in Madisonville Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and the interment took place at the Old Fellows' Cemetery, at that place. The bereaved relatives have the sincere sympathy of their many friends in their trouble.

Do you know that some Prohibitionists are spending more for car fares and lunches in order to attend Prohibitionist committee meetings than others of equal means are giving to the cause in all ways?

HOW TO LIVE LONG.

Obtain the Best There Is in Life and Enjoy Good Health.

Moderation in eating, drink and the body, as far as possible, constant working order.

Regular exercises every day in all weathers, supplemented in many cases by breathing movements, by breathing and climbing tours.

Going to bed early and rising early, and restricting the hours of sleep to six or seven hours.

Daily baths or ablutions, according to individual condition, cold or warm, or warm follow by cold.

Regular work and mental occupation.

Cultivation of placidity, cheerfulness and hopefulness of mind. Employment of the great power of the mind, in controlling passions and nervous fear.

Strengthening the will in carrying out whatever is useful and in checking the craving for stimulants, anodynes and other injurious agencies.

Abraham Lincoln's maxim were: "Do not worry; eat three square meals a day; say your prayers; think of your wife; be courteous to your creditors; keep your digestion good; steer clear of biliousness; exercise; go slow and easy. Maybe there are other things that your special case requires to make you happy, but, friend, these, I reckon, will give you a good life." Sir Benjamin Ward Richardson said: "I would be contentianer should never smoke or drink—especially the latter—and he should eat very little meat. He should keep early hours and work as little as possible by artificial light. Moreover, he should not make haste to be rich and he should avoid worry and consuming ambition."—British Medical Journal.

Will Drink Toasts in Liquid Sunshine.

New York, January 16.—The Technology club, composed of the New York alumni of Massachusetts Institute of Technology will give its annual dinner, February 5 at the Union Club. Liquid sunshine was served to each of its members. Dr. W. J. Morton, who named at the club's last meeting the discovery of liquid sunshine, has given the formula for making it.

It will be placed in a capsule at each plate with a glass of water. The room will be darkened and each man will drop the capsule into his glass and will make his own liquid sunshine by introducing a tube of radium into this water. They will then raise and drink to their alma mater in liquid sunlight.

French Wines Said to be Mostly Imitations.

Lexington, Ky., January 16.—Revelations of the impurity of foods in Europe are made by Prof. Robert M. Allen, secretary of the National pure food association, in his report. Prof. Allen has just returned from London, Berlin and Paris, where he had been sent by the association to secure representation of European scientists at the pure food congress in St. Louis during the World's Fair.

Prof. Allen said 60 per cent. of the French wines and 50 per cent. of their champagnes are either adulterations or imitations. The wines and champagnes are adulterated with new alcohol, coloring matters and acids deleterious to health. This assertion is based upon the analyses of 10,000 well selected samples of wines and champagnes.

Talking about music, Geo. Farnsworth has a pianola attached to his piano that knocks the black out of it. All the performer has to do is to pump the wind and it does the rest. Sunday night a few friends dropped in and George put about fourteen yards of paper in the thing and started it off. It played two times at one time and made more different kinds of music than a brass band. By a simple attachment it can be made to play fast or slow, soft or loud, and the main feature about it is that it never gets tired.

There were eight drummers in Earlington one day this week and it was not a good day for drummers other.

Just received 1 barrel Diamond Bright Miners Smootless Oil. Try it. L. E. McEuen.

One of our popular dispatchers has seen pay day with a thoughtful expression on his face and a deep even wrinkling his nose. When asked what the trouble was, he replied, "I am trying to solve the problem of how to pay $150.00 worth of debts with $100.00."

W. C. McLeod is in a position to save you money. Trade with him.

A liberal use of printers ink brings customers and customers buy goods. Try it and be convinced.

The old reliable grocer W. C. McLeod is always here with the goods and prices.

One dollar spent in advertising may bring you a one hundred dollar trade. Try it and see.

The prevention of consumption is entirely a question of commencing the proper treatment in time. Nothing is so well adapted to ward off fatal lung troubles as Foley's Honey and Tar.

It is thought that Harry Williams the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Duke Williams, formerly of this place but now of Henderson, is taking typhoid fever. The many friends of the family trust it is a mistake.

Best pure country made sorghum molasses, at L. E. McEuen.

The pay car was here Wednesday distributing wealth among the railroad boys.

20,000 pounds of clean timothy hay for sale by Foley & Co. of Madisonville. Price 55 cents per hundred at Madisonville.

Talking about music, Geo. Farnsworth has a piano attached to his piano that knocks the black out of it. All the performer has to do is to pump the wind and it does the rest. Sunday night a few friends dropped in and George put about fourteen yards of paper in the thing and started it off. It played two times at one time and made more different kinds of music than a brass band. By a simple attachment it can be made to play fast or slow, soft or loud, and the main feature about it is that it never gets tired.

Open Saloons.

The City Council of Madisonville has been petitioned to pass an ordinance prohibiting the use of screens or frosted glass in the front of the saloons in that city. This petition is being generally signed by the citizens of Madisonville.

will be noticed there are several new advertisers in this issue. The people of Earllington, Madisonville and Nebo are being more and more convinced "it pays to advertise" in the Bee.

Since the main thoroughfare of this little city have been rock paved quite a number of favorable comments have been made. And the prime mover of this decided improvement over the muddy streets of old certain deserves the thanks of the people of Earllington.

A majority of the Kentucky members of the Daughters of the American Confederacy celebrated the birthday of Gen. Robert E. Lee, Jan. 19, with appropriate exercises and by conferring the honor of Confederate veterans at Madisonville, a description of which is in this issue.

Earlington is still doing a land business in the building of houses. There have been several new dwellings recently erected and a dozen new ones are now in the course of construction. Never in the history of this town was business in a better condition and the prospect for a steady increase for the future are good. We do not think that Earllington is the best town on earth, but we do claim no other town in the state has equal advantages in the way of compensating labor and personal advantages.

20th ANNUAL STATE NEWS.

Madisonville dispatch of 15th inst.

The Committee on Suffrage of the House, after a long and hot debate, decided to re-adopt the Heflin Bill and to knight 146 of the Constitution about the all-time negro vote in Kentucky modeled after the thing in other Southern States.

Bradley is said to be in a attitude toward the place of the Republican Committee to succeed Hon. John W. Yerger.

Senator Hanna has issued a call for the National Republican Convention to meet at Chicago on the 1st day of June.

Mr. W. H. Overby, of Henderson, announced his candidacy for the publican nomination for Congress in this district, and is said to have the following following.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK.

A very unique form of advertisement of bringing people to the store was indulged in by a Kansas merchant who sent out notices to all farmers, that he would give fifty-five dollars in cash to the person who would bring to his store during the week, the largest number of women on one wagon. The result that nearly every woman in town and for miles around, and that store during the week, country paper tells of two little who asked their mother if they play store in the dining room. "Yes," she replied, "if you don't mind noise." "We'll be quiet," it mam," said one, "we'll be keepers that don't advertise." "All start out in life as an advertiser. The first cry is a 'want ad'."

for breakfast food. The second is likely to be a "help wanted" ad on account of a carelessly placed pin.—Mablin's Magazine.

"It is no use advertising unless you have the goods, and no use having the goods unless you advertise."

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Falling hair means weak hair. Then strengthen your hair; feed it with the only hair food, Ayer's Hair Vigor. It checks falling hair, makes the hair grow, completely cures dandruff. And it always restores color to gray hair, all the rich, dark color of early life.

Hair Vigor

"My hair was falling out badly and I was afraid it would never grow again. Then I used Ayer's Hair Vigor. It quickly stopped the falling and made my hair all grow again. It is so."—SARAH E. ALLEN, Elizabeth, N. J.

MINING NOTES.

A. L. Jones & Co., who have been drilling for coal at Clay in Webster county, struck a five foot vein of No. 9 coal last week. The coal was found at a depth of 150 feet.

James T. Pride, member of the Legislature from Union county, has introduced a bill in the House for the better protection of the men while at work in the mines. The bill will require modern appliances for protection from fire damp.

The Seebree Oil and Gas Company are now consulting with Mr. E. F. Doudna, of the Doudna drill company, an expert oil man whom they hope to secure to do the work. In case they do work will begin in the early spring. This company owns the mineral rights of several thousand acres of land in the vicinity of Seebree and the indications for gas and oil are pronounced positive by expert oil men who have examined them.

The blacksmith shop at the Barsley mine is nearing completion. This shop is to be equipped with a steam hammer and other modern mechanical devices that go to make an up-to-date shop.

Col. Toombs and First Lieutenant John Peyton are at work this week arranging the mineral exhibit of the St. Bernard Mining Company which is to be exhibited at the World's Fair. One of the chief features of this exhibit will be a reproduction on a miniature scale of the pump in use at the coke ovens at this place with which slack is washed before it is made into coke. Other features of coke making are also to be shown. Messrs. Toombs and Peyton have had a great deal of experience in this class of work and are well qualified to get up an interesting exhibit.

Mr. Dillard Summers has been on the sick list for several days this week but is now improving. Supt. Harris of the Diamond mine was in Madisonville Tuesday attending the Confederate Veterans reunion.

Mr. Pat Blair was in town one day this week. A force of hands are now at work in the famous Elkhorn creek coal field in Kentucky mining out a large block of coal for exhibition at the St. Louis World's Fair. This is the largest coal vein in Kentucky measuring thirteen feet and six inches.

FRENCH LICK AND WEST BADEN SPRINGS.
In the highlands of Indiana—a two hour ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you'd spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe.
A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surrounding country, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better; the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lick-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland.
The splendidly wooded hills with the cool, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambles in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous bridle paths and roadways, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet; while at the splendid casinos one can have all the entertainment and social pleasures possible at the most fashionable resorts.

FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

(First Session.)

Senate.—The session of the 15th, devoted to speeches by Mr. Newlands and Mr. Lullier in advocacy of the passage of a bill for the improvement of the public wagon route of the country. Mr. Newlands declared that the course of the president in Panama was an act of war and in contravention of the treaty of 1903, and that the United States was bound to support the revolution in Panama. He declared that the United States was bound to support the revolution in Panama. He declared that the United States was bound to support the revolution in Panama.

Scene From the Great Religious Drama, "Ben-Hur,"

To be staged at the Grand Opera House, Evansville, Ind., the entire week of January 25, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

BEN-HUR, ACT IV, TABLEAU 1, DOWAR OF SHEIK ILDERIM IN THE ORCHARD OF PALMS.

SHEIK ILDERIM.—"Enter—in Allah's name! And may His name be praised, I have thee at last beneath my roof."

Simonides, borne by his slaves, comes to the dowar of Sheik Ilderim to acknowledge Ben-Hur as the son of the dead Prince. Messala partly recognized Ben-Hur in their encounter in the grove of Daphne, but was not certain until Drusus had told him the story of the Roman tribune, Arrius, and the galley slave he had adopted after the battle with the Aegean pirates. This leads Messala to post on the walls of Antioch an announcement that Ilderim's driver is "Ben-Hur, a Jew," hoping thereby to inflame popular prejudice against him on account of his race. This is the proof of identity that Simonides seeks and he hastens to acknowledge Ben-Hur as his master.

THE PASSING OF "CITIZEN" TRAIN

George Francis Train, One of the Most Picturesque of American Citizens, Dead at 75.

HE WAS A MAN WHO DID THINGS IN THE DAYS OF HIS ACTIVITY.

He Winding of the West Through the Means of the Pacific Railroad. Every Day in His Efforts to Queer the Earth in Sixty-Six Days.

New York, Jan. 20.—George Francis Train, who died last Monday night at his hotel No. 1, in Bleecker street, probably was one of the most picturesque figures in the history of America. By a year ago, when he was 74 years of age, he dictated the reminiscences of an extraordinary career, and the result was published in book form. Summarized in his own words, his life contained the following information about his career:

His Career in Brief.
Shipping clerk, 16; manager 18; partner in Train & Co., 23, with an income of $10,000.

Established firm George Francis Train & Co., Melbourne, Australia, 32; agent White Star line, income $10,000. Started forty clippers to California in 1849.

Built railroad connecting Erie with Toledo and Mississippi.

Pioneered the first street railway in Europe, America, Australia and England. Built first Pacific railway 1862-63 through credit mob. Owed $5,000,000 in Omaha, worth $3,000,000; ten in fifteen years without a cent.

Early Life as Orphan.

Mr. Train's parents, with several brothers and sisters, died at New Orleans from yellow fever and his childhood home was at his grandmother's in Massachusetts. Not long after entering the Boston shipping house he was followed by his cousin he went abroad, and from that time on he wandered all over the globe.

In 1873 he began a career as lecturer and agitator and held public debates with some of the ablest debaters in the country. A few years he made a trip around the world in 66 days, saying afterward that his psychic force enabled him to overcome all obstacles.

His Last Misadventure.

When Mills hotel No. 1 was opened, several years ago, Mr. Train went there to live and since then made it his headquarters. One of the features of his even life was his admiration for the colored race, and for years a familiar name in Madison square was "Citizen Train on a bench surrounded by a lot of little ones."

His Last Misadventure.

Train's last misadventure occurred last summer, when he was injured at Stamford, Conn., in a collision camp and threatened with a suit for $50,000. He was then the author of the "Psychic Power" books and frequently used his "psychic power" event to make him the most potent of the earth.

OWNERS WICH TO HIM.

Trained Associated With his Early Development.

Feb. 20, 1862.—George Francis Train was arrested with several other men in Omaha for nearly 30 years. He owned at one time 500 acres in the eastern part of the city, on which he now located all the large railroad yards of the city, and valued at several million dollars. He was a persistent advertiser of the city and posted advertisements on the premises of every firm of the city's features. He was also prominently identified with the building of the Union Pacific railroad.

BAD FIRE AT CINCINNATI.

Compounding Distillery Burned—

The Precious Delivered to the Girls Narrowly Escape.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 20.—The largest plant of Nicholas, Fletcher & Co., east Pearl street, used as a distillery for compounding liquors, was burned Tuesday. Loss $250,000; insured $100,000. Joseph and Josephine Nicholas, Bremen, were seriously injured by falling walls. Bookcase is not expected to recover. Fifty girls and many men employed in the distillery had narrow escape.

The fire is supposed to have started from spontaneous combustion among straw wrappers in the warehouse. Following, the fire was exceptionally illuminating and could be seen for many miles.

A MONSTROUS SNOW SLIDE.

Crushed Down the Mountain Side—

Nearly Twenty Deceased—Huge Damage and Delayed Traffic.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 20.—An avalanche of snow fell from the mountain side at a point known as "The Bow," and the result was a monstrous pile of snow and ice, which buried several hundred people and delayed traffic for several days.

Fortunately no train was on the line at the time, or it probably would have been buried beneath the snow.

Canadian Pacific transcontinental line west, due to reach Tuesday morning, was held by the slide.

GEN. ROBT. E. LEE'S

Birthday Appropriately Celebrated at

Madisonville Tuesday by Confederate Veterans.

CROSSES OF HONOR CONFERRED.

Last Tuesday was a day that was celebrated everywhere in the South by the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Confederate soldiers as the anniversary of the birth of General Robert E. Lee, who was born January the 19th, 1807.

The A. E. Rees Chapter, No. 622, Daughters of the Confederacy and the United Confederate Veterans, Camp 528 of Madisonville made the day one to be long remembered.

The ladies of the Chapter prepared a most excellent lunch, which was served in the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 12 o'clock.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, a meeting was held in the same rooms for the purpose of conferring the "Cross of Honor" upon those who had applied for that distinction. A program had been arranged before hand and was carried out most fully and successfully.

Mrs. W. J. Barnhill, president of the Daughters of the Confederacy presided.

A prayer was offered by Rev. P. E. Gatlin of the Baptist church.

Song: "My Country."

Judge C. C. Givens delivered an address that was timely and well received. He paid a glowing tribute to the ex-confederates and to the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Miss Mattie May Alexander favored the audience with a recitation.

Miss Zilla Lancaster, a little Miss of about a dozen years, sang "Bonnie Blue Flag." She sang this so well that she answered to an encore and sang "Ke-tucky Home."

Mrs. Ida E. Walker favored the audience by a reading which was well received.

The speech of the afternoon was that delivered by the Hon. Everett Jennings. His address was well prepared, well delivered and met with rounds of applause. It completely captured everyone present.

Then followed the bestowing of the "Crosses of Honor" that had been applied for by the old soldiers. The following persons were decorated with these badges.

Alonzo Tindler, A. E. Rees, T. M. Brooks, Maj. F. B. Harris, of Morton's Gap; J. H. Shaw, W. D. Crow, F. E. Brown, G. W. Wiley, Polk Laffoon, H. J. Lynn, W. M. Madison, J. R. Mills, A. J. Howell, A. W. Denny, L. D. Mullinix, L. J. Shaw, Daniel Brown, D. A. Bondurant, J. M. Stevens.

There were five others who had made application who were not present at the meeting, and may receive badges by calling on the president of the chapter.

After conferring the "Cross of Honor," Hon. Polk Laffoon was called upon and made just what a talk as would be expected from him.

RESOLUTIONS.

Just before the audience was dismissed, the following resolution was offered and adopted:

"Be it resolved by the United Confederate Veterans, Camp No. 528, that their thanks are hereby tendered to A. E. Rees Chapter, No. 622, Daughters of the Confederacy, for the elegant and sumptuous dinner which they have this day prepared and furnished to us, and that we will hold in profound appreciation this expression of their kindness in expecting this compliment to us."

In addition to those upon whom the Cross was conferred the following ex-confederates were present at the dinner:

L. D. Hockersmith, W. H. Barton, R. U. Buckner, J. L. Sims, J. E. Cunningham.

Also citizens, Rev. P. E. Gatlin, Judge C. C. Givens, Hon. Everett Jennings and J. J. Glenn.

THE FOLLOWING RESOLUTION OF RESPECT WAS PASSED:

Whereas, Our All Wise Creator in His inscrutable wisdom has seen proper to take from the theatre of life where they have so long played such a conspicuous part, two of our grand old leaders, Generals John B. Gordon and James Longstreet, we deem it proper and right that we should give due recognition to the life, death and services of these two eminent leaders of the Southern armies.

General Gordon in addition to his superb generalship in war, has been our grand leader in peace, and to him more than any other man can be attributed the restoration of genuine peace and good feeling between the contending sections of the Union.

General Longstreet has been appropriately called "The Marshal Ney of the Confederate Army" and "The Thunderbolt of War," and his name will always occupy a high place in history on the rolls of great generals of the Confederate army.

Now, in order to pay our humble tribute to the eminent service and knightly deeds of these two dead heroes, he it therefore resolved,

1st. That we deeply deplore the death of these two heroes of the Confederacy, the one following the other in rapid march to the grave. We profoundly appreciate the wide gap which their death makes in the ranks of their living comrades, who are overwhelmed with grief at their unexpected demise.

2nd. That we earnestly sympathize with their grief stricken families and tender to them our condolence in their terrible af-liction.

3rd. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to each of the widows of their families, and our local newspapers be requested to publish these proceedings.

Polk Laffoon,

L. D. Hockersmith,

J. H. Shaw,

J. M. Stone,

J. H. Christy.

CAN YOU?

SEEK A HAND.

Oh, maiden with the dreamy eye.

You look so nice and sweet.

Can you go in the kitchen?

And cook things good to eat?

Your shapely hands are soft and white.

As they lightly press the keys.

But can you wait into the kitchen

And cook a pot of peas?

The brightness of the noonday sun

Is dimmer than your eye,

But in a case of hunger

Could you really bake a pie?

To back within your sunny smile

Is really quite a treat.

But how are you on cooking food

And mixing things to eat?

I love to hold your little hand

And squeeze it now and then.

But I'm wondering all the time

If you could cook a hen.

It's awful nice to love a girl

With shapely hands and feet.

But you want to marry one

That cooks good things to eat.

Children Poisoned.

Many children are poisoned and made nervous and weak, it is not likely that you are giving them enough syrups containing opium.

Foley's Honey and Tar is a safe and certain remedy for coughs, croup and lung trouble, and is the only prominent cough medicine that contains no opium or other poisons.

Orien Roark Married.

Mr. Orien Roark, editor of the Greenville Record and Miss Lucy

Johnson, both of the same town were married last week. The bride is a sister of Mr. Jerrold Johnson of Madisonville and is a most estimable woman. Mr. Roark is a first class state gentleman. The press of the state extends congratulations to the newly wedded pair.

If you but knew the splendid merit of Foley's Honey and Tar you would never be without it. A dose or two will prevent an attack of pneumonia or its complications. It may save your life.

Scene From the Great Religious Drama, "Ben-Hur,"

To be staged at the Grand Opera House Evansville, Ind., the entire week of January 25, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

BEN-HUR, ACT IV, TABLEAU 1, DOWAR OF SHEIK ILDERIM IN THE ORCHARD OF PALMS.

SHEIK ILDERIM.—"Enter—in Allah's name! And may His name be praised, I have thee at last beneath my roof."

Simonides, borne by his slaves, comes to the dowar of Sheik Ilderim to acknowledge Ben-Hur as the son of the dead Prince. Messala partly recognized Ben-Hur in their encounter in the grove of Daphne, but was not certain until Drusus had told him the story of the Roman tribune, Arius, and the galley slave he had adopted after the battle with the Aegean pirates. This leads Messala to post on the walls of Antioch an announcement that Ilderim's driver is "Ben-Hur, a Jew," hoping thereby to inflame popular prejudice against him on account of his race. This is the proof of identity that Simonides seeks and he hastens to acknowledge Ben-Hur as his master.

FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

(First Session.)

Senate.—The Senate, on the 11th, listened to speeches by Mr. Newlands and Mr. Teller in support of a bill for the improvement of the public waterways of the United States. Mr. Newlands declared that the course of the President in Panama was an act of war and in contravention of the treaty of 1903, and of international law and of the constitution of the United States. Mr. Teller declared that the President's policy was patriotic and justified by present and future needs, and that the history of the United States was a record of similar acts of patriotism and courage. The Senate adjourned until the 12th.

House.—The House, on the 11th, began with the passage of a number of bills on the calendar, and closed in like manner. The intervening time was given over to a speech by Mr. Teller on the Panama question. Mr. Teller declared that the course of the President in connection with the recent revolt of Panama had been contrary to precedent and in contravention of international law. The Senate adjourned until the 12th.

Senate.—The post office inquiry resolution and the Panama canal question were the order of business on the 12th. The first half of the session was given up to the consideration of the Panama canal question. The House made a plan for the reference of all postal investigation resolutions to the committee on post offices, and Mr. Teller was satisfied with that arrangement. The discussion of the Panama canal question was confined to the continuation of the United States in the recent revolt of Panama was contrary to international law and sound morals. The Senate, at 5:30 p. m., adjourned.

House.—The House devoted a brief session to the consideration of a bill for the relief of Columbia business. While in conference scandal was discussed. Mr. Teller, of Georgia, introducing a letter from W. M. Louis, who felt aggrieved by certain statements in the Briarley report. Mr. Teller, of Missouri, pointed out that Louis was irregularly appointed just in time to let a contract that cost the government $100,000 more than was necessary. At 1:25 p. m. the house adjourned.

Senate.—The Senate required less than a minute on the 12th to dispose of the motion to refer to the committee on the various resolutions looking to an investigation of the post office department. After the passage of a half-dozen bills, the Senate returned to consideration of the Panama canal question. Mr. Quayle, of the Senate, introduced a bill for the relief of the Panama canal question. The Senate, at 5:30 p. m., adjourned.

House.—The House, on the 12th, began with the consideration of a bill for the relief of the Panama canal question. The House, at 5:30 p. m., adjourned.

PASSING OF "CITIZEN" TRAIN

George Francis Train, One of the Most Picturesque of American Citizens, Dead at 75.

WAS A MAN WHO DID THINGS IN THE DAYS OF HIS ACTIVITY.

Winning of the West Through the Means of the Pacific Railroad nearly time to his death—his life glided the earth in sixty-six days.

New York, Jan. 20.—George Francis Train, who died late Monday night at his hotel No. 1, in Bleecker street, was one of the most picturesque figures in the history of America. A year ago, when he was 74 years he dictated the reminiscences of an extraordinary career, and the result was published in book form. Bunched in his own curious fashion, contained the following information about his career:

His Career in Brief.—Employed clerk, 15; manager 15; in Train & Co., 20, with an income of $10,000.

Established firm George Francis Train & Co., Melbourne, Australia, Agent White Star line, income $8,000. Started forty clippers to California in 1849.

Organized railroad connecting Erie with and Mississippi.

Entered the first street railway in New York, Australia and England. Built first Pacific railway 1862 through credit mobiler. Owned 50,000 in Omaha, worth $3,000,000; in fifteen falls without a crime."

Early Left as Orphan.—Train's parents with several children and sisters, died at New Orleans from yellow fever and his childhood home was on his father's estate in Massachusetts. Not long after leaving the Boston shipping house he was by his cousin he went abroad, from that time on he wandered all the globe.

1873 he began a career as lecturer and held public debates with some of the ablest debaters in the country. A few years he made a trip and the world in 66 days, saying toward that his psychic force enabled him to overcome all obstacles.

A Guest of Mills Hotel.

When Mills hotel No. 1 was opened, several years ago, Mr. Train went to live, and since then made it headquarters. One of the features of his life was his admiration of children, and for years a familiar figure in Madison square was "Citizen Train on a bench surrounded by a group of little ones."

His Last Misadventure.

Mr. Train's last misadventure occurred last summer, when he was stranded at Stamford, Conn., in a saloon isolation camp and threatened that city with a suit for $50,000. He was then the author of 400,000 books and frequently appeared at "his psychic power" event—20,000 make him the most potent play for the earth.

Madison owes much to him.

IRE AT CINCINNATI.

Imposingly Disfigured Burned—Two Firemen Injured and Fifty Girls Nervously Escape.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 20.—The large plant of Mikalovitch, Fletcher & Co. on east Pearl street, used as a distillery and for compounding liquors, was burned Tuesday. Loss $250,000. Insurance $100,000. Jose Rigby and Joseph Rockledge, firemen, were seriously injured by falling walls. Rockledge is expected to recover. Fifty girls and many men employed in the six-story warehouse had narrow escapes.

The fire is supposed to have started from spontaneous combustion among straw wrappers in the warehouse. Owing to the large amount of liquor consumed, the fire was exceptionally brilliant and could be seen for many miles.

A MONSTROUS SNOW SLIDE.

Crashed Down the Mountain Side Near Calgary, Dashed Much Damage and Delaying Traffic.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 20.—An avalanche of snow left the mountain side, some miles west of Calgary, Monday night, a point known as "The How" crashed down the height, carrying everything before it.

A monstrous pile tore up the Canadian Pacific track for several hundred feet. Fortunately no train was on the track at the time, or it probably would have been buried beneath the snow. The Canadian Pacific transcontinental express from the west, due to reach Winnipeg Tuesday morning, was held for 24 hours by the slide.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

Fireman E. S. Miller and T. H. Summitt, of the St. Louis Division are on the sick list.

Mr. O'Brien sent four of his men to Howell the first of the week to stand examination for position as fireman on the Henderson Division.

Switchman Charles Dare had a knuckle to fall on his right foot while making a coupling in Howell yard on the 15th, bruising his foot.

Engineer Mal Devney was laid up from the first of the year to the 15th with a severe cold.

B. D. Stafford, of the Ewald Iron Co., of St. Louis, Mo., was at Howell shops Monday to see the boys. Mr. Stafford is a frequent visitor in this part of the country, and is well liked by everybody.

T. R. Alstout, air-brake man at Earlington for some time, has resigned his position and is succeeded by O. C. Barbero.

Mr. W. M. Slocum, of St. Louis, Mo., was over the division last week in the interest of the Asbestos Roofing and Covering Co., of that city.

Mr. Thomas Walsh was on the sick list the greater part of last week, being the victim of an attack of the grippe.

Warner Campbell, who used to be an engineer on the Henderson Division, but for several years running on the Denver & Rio Grande in Colorado, is visiting his parents at Hopkinsville, Ky. He was at Howell the last of the week to see his old friends. They all remembered Warner. He reports that he has a first class position with the Rio Grande and is getting along nicely.

Engines 101 and 107 have been sent South in place of engines that have been sent to the Henderson Division from other divisions.

A. M. Cronin, an old engineer, who used to run engine in the Louisville terminal yards, and at other places on the system, spent several days at Howell last week.

C. M. Welborn has resigned as car repairer in the Howell shops on account of bad health.

Fireman Cowan Green is laid up at his home in Newburg, Ind., having been injured some time ago.

Engineer H. T. Mulvaney has been assigned to the coal pile up, in place of Engineer J. J. Sullivan, who, it is understood, will accept a position with the Southern, at Princeton, Ind.

Engineer William M. Cooper spent a few days at Carmi, Ill., the first of the week.

Mrs. O. E. Palmer, of Howell, is visiting her husband, who is stationed for the winter at E. St. Louis, Ill., having charge of the hot air arrangement in the new round house at that point.

Fireman L. L. Patterson was obliged to give up firing on 92 and 93 last Thursday on account of the serious illness of his aged father.

Elmer Board, machinist at Howell, is on the sick list with the grippe.

Master Mechanic Thos. Walsh, Foreman of Boiler Shop Arthur Brown, Foreman Mike Buckley, of E. St. Louis, Ill., Engineer James Joyce and Fireman Muth went to Springfield, Ills., Sunday on business for the company.

DEATH OF JAMES L. BLAIR

Mrs. E. Power, His Principal Nurse, Tells of His Last Days.

He Had Been Failing for Three Weeks, and the Cerebral Congestion, Brought the End.

Eustis, Fla., Jan. 19.—Mrs. E. Power, who was head nurse in charge of James L. Blair from the day of his arrival here up to the time of his death, made the following signed statement concerning the unfortunate man's last days:

"During the last three weeks Mr. Blair had been gradually failing, and I was not away from his side to exceed two hours up to Sunday, January 10. He took daily rides when the weather would permit, but after each ride he appeared more worn and fatigued than after the preceding one.

JAMES L. BLAIR.

"On the 10th, after his ride, he made the remark that he would not try it again, and he did not, as the following night he was taken with a congestive chill, and later on with a second one, and they were the direct and immediate cause of his death.

"As stated by Dr. Hutchings in his report to the President, the real cause of Mr. Blair's death was cerebral congestion. At the time of the first chill, Dr. Hutchings and Dr. Melroe, two of the best physicians in the south, were called in, and they remained in constant attendance until death.

"His wife and his eldest son, Percy, were with him at the end. He was unable to speak, but he showed that he recognized Mrs. Blair by pressing her hand.

"Mrs. Blair received many telegrams of sympathy from all parts of the country before her departure with her son and her unfortunate husband's body for St. Louis.

"Dr. Hutchings declined to make a verbatim statement, but verified all that had been said by Mrs. Power.

Arrival of Blair's Remains.

St. Louis, Jan. 19.—The casket containing the remains of James L. Blair arrived in St. Louis at 2:05 p. m. from Eustis, Fla. It was accompanied by Mrs. Blair and her son Percy. The funeral, which will be strictly private, will probably be held Wednesday afternoon.

F. W. PECK VISITS THE FAIR.

Former Commissioner-General to Paris Says St. Louis Is a World's Fair Will Break All Records.

St. Louis, Jan. 18.—Ferdinand W. Peck, of Chicago, who was commissioner-general from the United States at the Paris exposition, spent Saturday at the Paris exposition, and made a tour of inspection of the fair grounds and buildings.

After his trip over the grounds Mr. Peck said that the buildings and condition of the roads and landscape as far in advance of those at Chicago and Paris, at the corresponding period before the date set for the exposition, 100 spots in terms of the best of the beauty of the exposition.

"Every person in the United States and abroad who can not reach St. Louis in 1904 will always regret thereafter his failure to do so. I believe the people of Chicago and Paris will cheerfully admit that the Louisiana Purchase exceeds the wonders of 1893 and 1890."

A CAUSE OF AMAZEMENT.

Governments Official Amazed at the Extent of Fraudulent Election Practices in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Jan. 16.—After spending four days investigating naturalization frauds in St. Louis, C. V. C. Van Deusen, special examiner from the department of justice at Washington, D. C., departed for New Orleans.

Mr. Van Deusen said he was amazed at the extent of fraudulent election practices in St. Louis, and that he would recommend to the department in Washington the appointment of an additional attorney to co-operate with United States Attorneys Tye and Norton in the prosecution of the naturalization fraud cases.

SENATOR HANNA ISSUES CALL

For the Republican National Convention, to Select Candidates For President and Vice-President.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Senator Hanna has issued the call for the republican national convention to meet at Chicago at noon, June 21, 1904, to select candidates for president and vice-president. The call makes the usual provisions for the number of delegates—four at large from each state and two from each congressional district. Delegates must be elected at least 30 days before the national committee meets.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

Firemen E. S. Miller and T. H. Summitt, of the St. Louis Division are on the sick list.

Mr. O'Brien sent four of his men to Howell the first of the week to stand examination for position as fireman on the Henderson Division.

Switchman Charles Dare had a knuckle to fall on his right foot while making a coupling in Howell yard on the 15th, bruising his foot.

Engineer Mal Devney was laid up from the first of the year to the 15th with a severe cold.

B. D. Stafford, of the Ewald Iron Co., of St. Louis, Mo., was at Howell shops Monday to see the boys. Mr. Stafford is a frequent visitor in this part of the country, and is well liked by everybody.

T. R. Alston, air-brake man at Earlington for some time, has resigned his position and is succeeded by O. C. Barbero.

Mr. W. M. Slouani, of St. Louis, Mo., was over the division last week in the interest of the Asbestos Roofing and Covering Co., of that city.

Mr. Thomas Walsh was on the sick list the greater part of last week, being the victim of an attack of the grippe.

Warner Campbell, who used to be an engineer on the Henderson Division, but for several years running on the Denver & Rio Grande in Colorado, is visiting his parents at Hopkinsville, Ky. He was at Howell the last of the week to see his old friends. They all remembered Warner. He reports that he has a first class position with the Rio Grande and is getting along nicely.

Engines 104 and 107 have been sent South in place of engines that have been sent to the Henderson Division from other divisions.

A. M. Cronin, an old engineer, who used to run engine in the Louisville terminal yards, and at other places on the system, spent several days last week at Howell.

C. M. Wellborn has resigned as car repairer in the Howell shops on account of bad health.

Fireman Cesso Green is laid up at his home in Newburg, Ind., having been injured some time ago.

Engineer H. T. Mulvaney has been assigned to the crack pick-up, in place of Eugene J. J. Sullivan, who, it is understood, will accept a position with the Southern, at Princeton, Ind.

Engineer William M. Cooper spent a few days at Carmi, Ill., the first of the week.

Mrs. O. E. Palmer, of Howell, is visiting her husband, who is stationed for the winter at E. St. Louis, Ill., having charge of the hot air arrangement in the new round house at that point.

Fireman L. L. Patterson was obliged to give up firing on 92 and 98 last Thursday on account of the serious illness of his aged father.

Elmer Beard, machinist at Howell, is on the sick list with la grippe.

Master Mechanic Thos. Walsh, Foreman of Boiler Shop Arthur Brown, Foreman Mike Buckley, of E. St. Louis, Ill., Engineer James Joyce and Fireman Muth went to Springfield, Ills., Sunday on business for the company.

INSPIRATION

For the Writing of "Ben-Hur."

People know that it was the agnostice, Robert G. Inger, who caused the writing of the "Ben-Hur," the stage version which has created an absolute sensation, not only in this country, but in England and also Australia. One about through a chance of the two famous men in a journey, when Christy was a subject of their talk. General Wallace had always been a man of religious inclination; in a splendid description of the cause of the Star of Bethlehem who men of the desert had bitten before this chance ac- cident.

Arguments and claims of the fidel were too much for the general. His senses were not with the eloquence and the presentation of the story, but he was by no means convinced of its truth. The mission made him deeply reflect and led him to make a careful and exhaustive study of the life of the Nazarene. The result of this research and General Wallace's answer to Ingersoll was "Ben-Hur," a work which has become more widely read than any printed volume save the sacred Book of Scriptures.

The placing of "Ben-Hur" on the stage in dramatic form was attended with many interesting circumstances. General Wallace had strenuously opposed any dramatization of his immortal work, notwithstanding that the late Lawrence Barrett and many other noted thespians made the request. The author had always believed in the theater as an elevating influence for good, but he was unable to see how the main incidents of his book could be put into dramatic form without violating the firmly grounded principles of all who believe in the Christian religion. Finally Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger hit upon a plan which would be perfectly effective and yet treat the subject with all possible respect. They conceived the idea of simply suggesting the presence of the Saviour by a shaft of pure white light of remarkable brilliancy. This suggestion appealed to the General and led to the business arrangement which has been so substantially satisfactory to both writer and manager.

"Ben-Hur" will be presented at the Grand Opera House, Evansville, Ind., January 25 to 30 with special matinees on Wednesday and Saturday. The sale of seats for "Ben-Hur" for the Evansville engagement will open at the Theatre box office January 21. Special attention will be given to all orders, in the order received, when accompanied by a remittance, and a self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. All requests for seats should be addressed to Pedley & Burch, Managers.

Famous Kentucky Beauty

Comes Home Deaf and Blind.

A dispatch from New York to the Globe-Democrat says: Marquise de Monstrieux Merinville, formerly Mary Gwendolin Caldwell, a Kentucky beauty and heiress, one of the founders of the Catholic University of America at Washington, and once the fiancee of Prince Joachim Napoleon Murat, has returned to America without her husband, and is now in a critical condition in her apartments at the Buckingham. She is said to be suffering from a complication of diseases, brought on by nervous derangement. She has lost her hearing, and is almost totally blind.

Gwendolin Caldwell was born in Kentucky, her mother being one of the famous Breckinridge family of that state. When still a little girl she inherited from her father a fortune of $5,000,000, and at her mother's death a few years later inherited half a million more. She and her sister, the present Baroness von Zedtwitz, were educated at the convent of the Sacred Heart, Manhattanville.

MADAME ADELINA PATTI

Comes to the Vendome, at Nashville, Monday, Feb. 1st.

What song ever written has gone as deep into the heart or drawn humanity as close together with its irresistible spell of melody as "Home Sweet Home." It might almost be called the heart of melody, the organ of harmony that gives life to all else of music.

It is happy knowledge that Madame Adelina Patti who gives her farewell concert in Nashville on Monday evening, February 1st, will sing "Home Sweet Home" as one of two numbers on the programme. It is worth traveling miles to hear, and it is certain that many will travel miles to hear the Diva, for already inquiries for seats are coming into the Vendome from various parts of Tennessee for her concert which will be given at Nashville's celebrated Tabernacle. It is pleasant to think that the last time Madame Patti sings in Nashville can be remembered as one of the most exquisite bits of singing ever heard by the people of this city.

The greatest of all singers contends that to sing "Home Sweet Home" properly, takes more concentrated effort, and more voice than to give forth the most florid series of cadenzas. Let those therefore, who hear Madame Patti sing this famous song be grateful, for they will probably never hear it again in such a manner.

Tickets can be ordered now by addressing W. A. Sheetz, Nashville, Tenn. Prices $2, $3, $4 and $5. Check or money order must accompany orders for tickets.

Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c.

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse torments than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower cures the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living no matter what your station. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c.

There is one question which Prohibitions take especial delight in asking champions of the liquor trade. As often as it is propounded salubritas froth at the mouth and grow black in the face—and forget to answer it. It is this: "If prohibition doesn't prohibit, why do saloon-keepers oppose it so strenuously?"

INSPIRATION For the Writing of "Ben-Hur."

For people know that it was the agnostic, Robert G. Ingersoll, who caused the writing of "Ben-Hur," the stage version only has created an absolute myth, not only in this country, but also in Australia. About through a chance they saw the two famous men in a Madison, when Christianity had always been a man of religious inclination; in his long and description of the Temple of the Star of Bethlehem, the knight of the desert had before this chance.

ments and claims of the were too much for the general. His senses were with the eloquence and presentation of the causes, but he was by no means a subject of their talk. General had always been a man of religious inclination; in his long and description of the Temple of the Star of Bethlehem, the knight of the desert had before this chance.

The placing of "Ben-Hur" on the stage in dramatic form was attended with many interesting circumstances. General Wallace had strenuously opposed any dramatization of his mortal work, notwithstanding at the late Lawrence Barrett and other noted thespians made request. The author had always loved in the theater as an artistic influence for good, but he was unable to see how the main elements of his book could be put into dramatic form without violating the holy ground principles of all who believe in the Christian religion. Creek Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger, a plan which would be perfectly effective and yet treat the subject with all possible respect. He conceived the idea of simply recasting the presence of the Saviour by a shaft of pure white light of remarkable brilliancy. This suggestion appealed to the General and led to the business arrangement which has so substantially satisfied both writer and manager. "Ben-Hur" will be presented at Grand Opera House, Evansville, Indiana, January 26 to 30 with special scenes on Wednesday and Saturday.

The sale of seats for "Ben-Hur" for the Evansville engagement will open at the Theatre box office January 21. Special attention will be given to mail orders, in the order received, when accompanied by a remittance, and a self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. All requests for seats should be addressed to Pedley & Burch, Managers.

Famous Kentucky Beauty

Comes Home Deaf and Blind.

A dispatch from New York to the Globe-Democrat says: Marquise de Monstrieux Merinville, formerly Mary Gwendolin Caldwell, a Kentucky beauty and heiress, one of the founders of the Catholic University of America at Washington, and once the fiancée of Prince Joachim Napoleon Murat, has returned to America without her husband, and is now in a critical condition in her apartments at the Buckingham. She is said to be suffering from a complication of diseases, brought on by nervous derangement. She has lost her hearing, and is almost totally blind.

Gwendolin Caldwell was born in Kentucky, her mother being one of the famous Breckinridge family of that state. When still a little girl she inherited from her father a fortune of $5,000,000, and at her mother's death a few years later inherited half a million more. She and her sister, the present Baroness von Zedwitz, were educated at the convent of the Sacred Heart, Manhattanville.

MADAME ADELINA PATTI

Comes to the Vendome, at Nashville, Monday, Feb. 1st.

What song ever written has gone as deep into the heart or drawn humanity as close together with its irresistible spell of melody as "Home Sweet Home." It might almost be called the heart of melody, the organ of harmony that gives life to all else of music.

It is happy knowledge that Madame Adelina Patti who gives her farewell concert in Nashville on Monday evening, February 1st, will sing "Home Sweet Home" as one of the numbers on the programme. It is worth traveling miles to hear, and it is certain that many will travel miles to hear the Diva, for already inquiries for seats are coming into the Vendome from various parts of Tennessee for her concert which will be given at Nashville's celebrated Tabernacle. It is pleasant to think that the last time Madame Patti sings in Nashville can be remembered as one of the most exquisite bits of singing ever heard by the people of this city.

This greatest of all singers contends that to sing "Home Sweet Home" properly, takes more concentrated effort, and more voice than to give forth the most florid series of cadenzas. Let those therefore, who hear Madame Patti sing this famous song be grateful, for they will probably never hear it again in such a manner.

Tickets can be ordered now by addressing W. A. Sheets, Nashville, Tenn. Prices $2, $3, $4 and $5. Check of money order must accompany orders for tickets.

Climatic Cures.

The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overrated. The poor patient, and the rich patient too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of Gorman Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Sleepless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c.

Millionaire's Poor Stomach.

The worn-out stomach of the over-fed millionaire is often paraded in the public prints as a horrible example of the evils attendant on the possession of great wealth. But millionaires are not the only ones who are afflicted with bad stomachs. The proportion is far greater among the toilers. Dyspepsia and indigestion are rampant among these people, and they suffer far worse tortures than the millionaire unless they avail themselves of a standard medicine like Green's August Flower, which has been a favorite household remedy for all stomach troubles for over thirty-five years. August Flower rouses the torpid liver, thus creating appetite and insuring perfect digestion. It tones and vitalizes the entire system and makes life worth living no matter what your station. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c.

There is one question which Prohibitionists take especial delight in asking champions of the liquor trade. As often as it is propounded saloonists froth at the mouth and grow black in the face—and forget to answer it. It is this: "If prohibition doesn't prohibit, why do saloonkeepers oppose it so strenuously?"
